

THE CYBER RESILIENCE CENTRE

FOR THE NORTH EAST | YORKSHIRE | THE HUMBER

Police-led, business-focused cyber support for your organisation

Helping businesses and third-sector organisations become more secure through knowledge sharing, training, and guidance.

About

The Cyber Resilience Centre for the North East (NECRC)

The NECRC is a police-led, government-funded partnership between universities and businesses aimed at improving cyber resilience in businesses in North East, Yorkshire, and The Humber. The NECRC is part of a nationwide network of centres which have been established across the country.

For cyber criminals, the size of your business is irrelevant as there's nothing small about small businesses. If you're open for business online, you could be open to cyber attacks. Take steps to protect your business from cybercrime today by signing up to our free membership.

Police forces across the North East see an alarming number of cyber attacks every month
